New venue announced for Parmalee concert, Taylor Shines Laser Spectacular

LAFAYETTE, IN – July 19, 2024 – The Long Center for the Performing Arts announced today a venue change for two concerts originally slated for the outdoor Loeb Stadium. The Parmalee concert scheduled for Friday, July 26, and Taylor Shines: The Laser Spectacular scheduled for Saturday, July 27, will now be staged indoors at the Long Center for the Performing Arts, 111 N. Sixth St., in downtown Lafayette.

"Next week's weather forecast predicts multiple days of thunderstorms. This is exactly the timeframe that we need to configure the stadium for outdoor shows," said John Hughey, executive director of the Long Center. "We are announcing the venue change a week in advance because it is impossible to swap locations on show day. We appreciate our guests for understanding and their flexibility. We want a safe and enjoyable experience for all."

For current ticket-holders, the Long Center's box office team is issuing new tickets with seats in price levels that match the Loeb Stadium purchase. Guests will receive an email from the Long Center with the new ticket. Refunds are not available for relocated or rescheduled events.
